TWO GATES ESTATES SUED FOR $2,130,000

Action Based on Alleged Corner in Corn on Chicago Board of Trade in 1902.

PROBATING HERE SOUGHT

The fact that the estates of John W. Gates and his son, Charles G. Gates, have been sued for $2,130,000 by Rob-ert H. Thorburn of 64 West Fifty-third street, a former member of the Chicago Board of Trade, on the ground that they engineered a corner in corn on the Board of Trade in July, 1902, be-Came known here yesterday.
Thorburn's claim against the two
Gates estates, and especially against the Gates estates, and especially against the estate of Charles G. Clates, was disclosed through the filing in the Surrogate's Court of an order directing Mrs. Deliora R. Gates, whow of John W. Gates, who is executrix of the estates of both her husband and son, and all legatess under the will of Charles G. Gates to show cause why the will, which was probated in Jefferson county, Texas, on January 26, 1914, should not be ad-mitted to probate here and the decedent declared a resident of New York State.

In filing his petition Thorburn asserted that he is a creditor of the Charles G. Gates estate and that he is uncertain whether Mr. Gates died a resident of New York, Minnesota of Texas.

Mr. Thorburn's proceeding in the Sur-rogate's Court was brought as the re-sult of a recent decision of United States District Judge Learned Hand,

SUFFRAGISTS SURE OF A FAIR FIELD

Chairman Koenig Gives & Pledge of Republican Organization Neutrality.

MUCH TALKING PROMISED

Chairman Koenig of the Republican County Committee announced yesterday that the Republican party would keep "hands off" the suffrage amendment. "The leaders of the organization met at the beginning of the campaign," he said, "and determined to take no part one way or the other on the question of woman's right to vote, but to leave this issue to be determined by the voters without so-called organization interference.

"To that position we shall strictly adhere, and in addition we will undertake to insure an absolutely fair count of the votes as cast.
